

Firewall Statement

The American Academy of CME (Academy) is an independent, not-for-profit, 501(c)(3), education foundation.

The Academy is not owned by, nor part of, any proprietary entity involved in producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients.

The Academy only provides accredited continuing education for health care professionals. The Academy does not provide promotional activities for any pharmaceutical or medical device manufacturing company or other ineligible company.