

Procedure for Cases Where Insufficient Information Provided to Award CE Credit or MOC Points

From time to time the Academy may not have sufficient information to award credit or MOC points to a learner who completes an Academy CE-certified activity. Examples of these types of situations include:

- CE certificate issued through the mail is returned because address is incorrect
- CE certificate issued through email is undeliverable or blocked by the email server
- Learner's information cannot be read due to poor handwriting
- Pharmacist does not provide (or provides incorrect) NABP e-Profile ID or birthday (MMDD format)

Physician requesting MOC points does not provide (or provides incorrect) Board ID or birthday (MM/DD format), or provides their name in a way other than as it is listed with their Board (e.g., provides a nickname as a first name instead of the name used on their Board profile)

In these and other such cases, an Academy staff member will attempt to contact the learner via email or phone to obtain the correct information. If the learner does not respond, the Academy will not make future attempts to contact the learner. However the Academy will issue a certificate of credit if the necessary information is provided at a later date.

In the case of physicians requesting MOC, MOC points will be issued if the information is provided within the timeframe allowed by their respective Board for issuing MOC points for an activity.

In the cases of pharmacists, credit will be issued if the information is provided within the timeframe allowed by the ACPE for issuing CE credit for an activity.
